Marshals Keep Eyes on Antioch Juveniles

Antioch police officers were instructed yesterday by Mayor Geo. B. Barthel to keep watchful eyes on Antioch boys who are suspected of deeds of mischief about the village. The order from the mayor came after Principal Ralph E. Cloughan of the grade school reported that doorknobs had been torn off at the building and coping of cement slabs had been pushed from the railing in front of the new building. The cement terrace at the school has been a favorite roller skating rink for the children and there has been no objection to this on the part of school officials. They decree, however, that deeds of malice, mischief and destruction of property must stop at once.

He came from the Isle of Man when 18 years of age, coming to this community soon after his arrival in this country. He had been a resident on the farm east of Antioch for the last 60 years, and was well known to all of the older residents in this locality. His wife died many years ago.

Voting Too Brisk; Town Meeting Recessed

The annual town meeting, scheduled to be held Tuesday was recessed until Saturday, April 6, and will be held at two p.m. in the village hall.

The annual town meeting is usually held on the same day as the annual election and the law provides that the polls shall be closed during the session. In Antioch Tuesday the voting was so brisk at two o'clock, the time set for holding the meeting, that it was thought best not to close the polls for this purpose. After a hasty consultation regarding the legality of such a move, the meeting upon motion was recessed until Saturday.

Volz Lake Cottage Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the cottage belonging to Roy Balmer at Volz lake near midnight Friday. The Antioch fire department was called but the flames had gained such headway when the firemen arrived that the building could not be saved. The building was insured for $1,500 and $200 was carried on the contents, firemen reported.

Thirty men employed through the Illinois Emergency Relief grant are working in two shifts at the Antioch grade school on three projects. The outside project on grounds calls for the raising of the sidewalks at low spots on both Depot street and Main street and the grading of the grounds to conform to the new sidewalk elevation; the trimming of trees and the removal of trees where overcrowded. Tree surgeons are making repairs on the remaining trees.

The inside projects consist mainly of work in the basement of the old building where the recommendations of the state fire marshal are being carried out in order to make it as nearly fireproof as possible. Metal lathing and plaster are being used to cover wood walls and ceiling, and a concrete wall is being built around the coal room. Metal doors are being installed throughout.

The work is being done by men who have had experience in each kind of work and 7 to 10 hours a week is allowed for skilled labor, and 30 hours a week for unskilled.

Another month will be required to complete the work, according to Principal R. E. Cloughan.

THE CROOKED LAWYER

No profession should hold to higher levels of honor, integrity and plain honesty than should the law. The right to practice in the courts of justice carries with it a vast and inescapable obligation to the public. Most lawyers live up to the essential standards—a few do not. And these few, as Courtney Ryley Cooper points out in an interview with Attorney General Cummings, appearing in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, are as much the enemies of the public as the gangster they defend.

Mr. Cooper cites almost incredible instances of lawyers who are retained by known criminals and are given large sums of money to use in any way they like—so long as acquittal is obtained for the underworld client. Such lawyers worry little about evidence or justice—they know that bribery is a more effective weapon. They train their clients like actors, so that when they appear on the witness stand they can make "staged" answers to any question. They obtain perjured alibis—and buy off perjured witnesses. In Mr. Cooper's words, "It is all fakery, crookedness, chicanery."

Bar associations, the judiciary and honest individuals are working tirelessly to rid society of this type of lawyer. But, as the interview points out, all such worthy efforts are doomed to failure without aggressive public support. Many people are inclined to be amused by the unethical lawyer—they even go so far as to admire the "cleverness" with which he manages to circumvent the ends of justice. So long as this attitude obtains, the shyster will prosper—and the ethics of the legal profession will suffer accordingly.

The law is the very life-blood of society. Its honest administration is our main defense against medieval social darkness. The crooked lawyer menaces us all—and his good offices (at high price) on behalf of the most desperate criminals are carried on at the expense of the entire public.

WHY KILL THE GOOSE?

Government is maintained by taxation on industry. The pay of public officials comes from the taxes that are taken from industry.

Then, why do so many public officials seek to gain popularity by attacking industry?

The simplest reasoning indicates the insanity of such a procedure.

Government in competition with private business can but to one end—destruction of private business, which means destruction of taxable resources of government.

Mrs. Mary Kapple of Grayslake visited her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Hinrich a few days last week.

The local Ladies' Aid Society is making elaborate plans to sponsor a home talent play, "Everybody's Here," on April 11 and 12 at Barnstable Hall. This is a new play

Destruction of private business means destruction of constitutional rights.

No bit of liberty that is given by a people as bureaucracy encroaches on individual right, is ever regained except by pain and suffering.

The problem of upholding constitutional rights, or defending personal liberties and private property from the grasping hand of politics, is not a partisan issue, it is a personal matter to every citizen.

It makes no difference under what guise liberty and private enterprise are destroyed, the common people suffer and pay for the privileged, political class, that profits.

Personal liberty is indeed a priceless heritage which should never be willingly exchanged for a mess of political pottage and patronage that destroys private enterprise.

THE FRUITS OF COOPERATION

A practical example of the essential work done by agricultural cooperatives is afforded in the case of dairy products' producers in an eastern state.

During depression, consumption in the largest market served by these farmers dropped 40 per cent. At the same time, production kept to a stable level, making it necessary for the producers to find new outlets in order to dispose of the surplus.

A pooling arrangement was then put into effect. Outlet for the surplus was found by turning a part of the total production to manufacturing units. Milk used for manufacture commanded a lower price than that sold to the consumer in the fluid state—and that inequality was satisfactorily adjusted within the pool by deducting enough from the price received by those who sold fluid milk to compensate the member whose milk went for manufacturing.

The plight of the unorganized farmer when demand falls, is well known. He is absolutely powerless—he can do nothing save continue to produce and take whatever price he is offered for the part of his crop that it wanted. When that farmer joins with other farmers and all work together in allocating production, stabilizing prices and exploring new markets, the picture changes altogether.

Cooperation has saved a legion of farmers from ruin during the past few years. And now it is slowly, but steadily, helping to bring agricultural recovery.

POLITICIANS VS. NATURE

Nature is repeating herself. Last year she brought the greatest drought in history to the great American midwest, turned millions of acres of rich wheat land to desert, and had the laugh on the puny efforts of man to control production.

As if that lesson weren't severe enough, Nature is again menacing crops—dust clouds recently swept the area across the vast mid-west wheat country. The area affected includes over 50,000,000 acres of wheat land. The result, unless late rains do the unexpected and remedy the situation, will be an inconsequential crop.

The Secretary of Agriculture has removed certain restrictions on the planting of spring wheat. This is expected to cause a rise of from 10 to 30 million bushels in the spring crop.

which has recently been put out by the Simpson-Lovell Producing Co., of Jackson, Mich., which will be remembered as the same company that put on the "Womanless Wedding." Remember the dates, April 11 and 12, and plan now to attend. Miss Ann Jordan, the director, is already at work, the cast selected and play being assembled. You don't want to miss this.

Mrs. William Duncan entertained her bridge club at a luncheon at her home last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Joe Hucker won first prize, Mrs. Frank Wood second prize, and Mrs. Paul Avery the consolation prize.
